

SARAH BEENY

Property Expert

Agent: Carina Rizvi

Sarah set up her first property development company aged just 24 along with her brother Diccon and now husband, Graham Swift. Since then, she and Graham have created a number of influential and exciting businesses.

Her passion for architectural heritage was brought to the masses in 2012 when Sarah, Graham and their 4 sons opened the doors to their exquisite home, Rise Hall, to allow viewers of Sarah Beeny's Restoration Nightmare to follow their long-term edit restoration project. The TV show charted the painful yet extremely rewarding journey of Sarah and family turning a stately home wreck into a unique and beautiful wedding and events venue.

With over 20 years of experience, Sarah is one of the most familiar and trusted names in the world of property and has written regular columns for national newspapers and magazines, in addition to numerous books. Her book, The Simple Life (Seven Dials), will be a candid exploration of her family's move to the country and the life lessons she has learnt along the way, and will be published in August 2023.

Sarah's show, Renovate Don't Relocate, became UKTV's best-performing property title with the first episode reaching an audience of four hundred and seventy-eight thousand. The show is now repeated on the W channel in addition to Really, and has returned with a second series for HGTV. In this she uses smart tech and life-size floor plans to bring design ideas alive, helping homeowners rethink their space and transform their lives. Sarah is also well-known for presenting Channel 4's Double Your House for Half the Money, Help! My House is Falling Down, Restoration Nightmare and Property Ladder.

Sarah let viewers into her home once more in 2020 in her show for Channel 4, Sarah Beeny's New Life in the Country. This show followed the property guru and her family as they quit their lives in London and moved to a 220-acre, semi-derelict former dairy farm in Somerset, where they've built the stately home of their dreams. The show's highly anticipated third season is airing this April on Channel 4 and will be available to stream on All 4.

Sarah's most recent series Little House, Big Plans (Channel 4) follows Sarah as she lends her expert knowledge in renovation to those who want to expand and renovate their smaller living spaces.
